

Dear Families,

As you know in September 2020 it will become statutory for schools to teach the new relationships education and health education. At William Austin we are going to begin to develop our planning in preparation for this time. As part of our consultation I would like to share with you our planning for PSHCEE lessons and on our Citizenship days. I have also included our draft policy and also the guidance from the Department for Education.

You may be aware that primary schools can choose whether they will deliver sex education to their pupils. We have decided not to do this.

In September it would be great to hear any views you may have on our planning. I will contact you in the new term to arrange a suitable date.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs Adams
