Dear families

Welcome back to school and may I wish you all a Happy New Year.

We welcome two new members of staff to our school Mr Osbourne who is our lead teacher for PE and Mr Ahmed who is teaching in Goodall class.

I have been really impressed with the 3d models created for holiday homework that the children have brought in. Examples are on display in the hall and corridors and have also been shared in year group assemblies. They really show the effort that went into creating them. Thank you if it was a whole family activity!

On Wednesday, Y6 took part in an evolution workshop as part of their science work. I know that they will have learnt lots - read all about it later in the newsletter.

Yesterday and today the Y4 pupils have been taking part in their annual CHILL project where colleagues from the NHS come into schools in Luton and London to measure the impact of air quality. Y4 enjoyed taking part in the workshops and learning more about air pollution.

Enjoy your weekend.

Mrs Adams

Cool Website

Since Year 6 have had a fantastic time learning about animal adaptations, this week's cool Website is all about animals. Visit skyanimals to find about a huge number of unusual creatures. From aardvarks to zebra, the site contains information about the animals, as well as activities such drawing and puzzle games themed on the animals. [National Geographic's kids pages](http://National Geographic's kids pages) also contain fascinating articles about a range of animals

Author of the Month - Michael Morpurgo

- Born on 5th October 1943. In St Albans in Hertfordshire.
- He discovered his talent for writing while working as a teacher.
- Living in Devon, listening to Mozart, and working with children have provided most of the stimulae he needs to discover and write his stories.

FAMILY CENTRE NEWS

Dear Families,

Happy New Year to all our Families we hope you all enjoyed the holidays and your children have come back to school feeling refreshed and ready to learn.

It is lovely to see all our children well wrapped up on these very cold mornings and wearing such cool bobble hats, well done parents! As the pantomime season is still in full swing we are running a trip to Luton Library Theatre to watch the Griffin Players perform a family favourite 'Aladdin'. This will be on Saturday 18th January at 12:00pm. Tickets are £10 per person. If interested pop into the Family Centre or call 01582 509121 places are limited.
